

Iron wool (fine iron wire) was heated and plunged into a gas jar of chlorine. When the experiment was repeated with a lump of iron of the same mass, the reaction was much slower.

In terms of particles, explain why the reaction was faster with iron wool.