

Metals are ductile and good conductors of heat and electricity. Give one other physical property of metals.