

Graphite, diamond and buckminsterfullerene are allotropes of carbon. They have different physical properties because....