

The mass number is the number of protons plus electrons in an atom