

Low temperature favours production of ammonia in the Haber process.

Why is  $400^{\circ}\text{C}$  used industrially?