

Titanium can be extracted by the electrolysis of titanium (IV) oxide, TiO_2 , dissolved in molten calcium chloride. The molten electrolyte contains the titanium ions, Ti_{4+} . Write the half equation for the formation of titanium at the electrode.